Forecast For East Midlands
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Friday 14 May 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Mostly dry before rain spreads northeast. Showers Saturday, perhaps thundery.

This Evening and Tonight:
Daytime showers easing during the evening, then largely dry until midnight. Cloud thickening from the south, however, with outbreaks of rain and drizzle possible by the early hours of Saturday. Some hill fog also developing across the Derbyshire hills. Minimum temperature 5 deg C (41 deg F).

Saturday:
Mostly cloudy start on Saturday with early rain and drizzle. This breaking up into a mixture of brighter spells and heavy showers by the afternoon, with a risk of thunder. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Staying cool, with variable amounts of cloud, sunny spells and showers throughout. Ongoing risk of thundery showers especially Sunday. Drier and chilly overnight with showers easing and some clear spells.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.